LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

February 1, 1924

During the past year 52 books have been added to the Library. Dr. William Bancroft Hill of Vassar College sent the book entitled "Ebenezer Hill, the Little Minister of Mason, N. H.," written by his grandson, Charles E. Hill. Dr. Hill also sent us several other books and two magazines, The Natural History and Everylands. Mrs. Hill is sending us the Birdlore Magazine. Mrs. C. A. Holcomb of Milford, N. H., gave us a very fine gift of 17 bound volumes of the Granite Monthly.

Mr. George Wilson gave three very old volumes, one published in 1794, one in 1832 and one in 1837.

Mr. Frank Colburn of Cambridge gave Christian Science Wartime Activities, also some copies of the Geographic Magazine

Miss Hobart from the State Library, Concord, was with us for a part of two days and went over the books in the Library, discarding some of the Government reports which were returned, which makes more room. In the spring she will be with us again and re-catalog the books.

MARY. L. HAYWARD

Librarian.

Report of School Board

---

The time for the annual report of the School Board has arrived.

We feel that progress has been made in the past year and continued this year. Our teachers remained with us, thus making the work more continuous as no time was lost in getting acquainted with new methods.

Mr. Currier decided to give up his work, but we were very fortunate in securing Mr. Vernon Ames to take his place and continue the work Mr. Currier had so finely started. Mr. Ames has had experience both as a teacher and superintendent and we feel he thoroughly understands the situation and needs of our rural schools.

The warm lunch at the noon hour which we are trying this winter term is a new departure for Temple. It has proved very successful in other towns nearby, and so far very satisfactory here.

The mothers have helped the teachers by preparing the vegetables for cooking, thus very little if any time is taken from the class work.

We wish to thank the teachers for their willingness to undertake the work and also the mothers who have so gladly assisted them.

We also wish to express our appreciation of the time and money spent by the Ladies Circle in supporting the Dental Clinic last spring.

The reports of our superintendent, nurse and music teacher fully cover the ground and we are glad to endorse them.

Respectfully submitted,
MAUDE E. FISKE

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

---

To the School Board and Citizens of Temple:

My first annual report as superintendent of schools in this district will necessarily be brief because of my short acquaintance with your school system. First, let me pay tribute to my predecessor, Mr. Currier, for the splendid organization of school affairs throughout the district which has made it possible for me to take over the work at a decided advantage.

Program of Studies

In the first six grades we are following the program of studies recommended by the State Board of Education which is almost universal throughout the state. A similar program is in preparation in the state office for grades seven and eight and we are taking advantage of some of the material which has already been prepared for that program to strengthen the work of those two grades in preparation for high school.

The Teaching Staff

Temple is fortunate in having kept both teachers over from last year. This permanency of teaching force makes possible more continuous progress in the school.

It is a wise policy surely to secure teachers with ability and as much training as possible, recognizing their natural ambition to advance from a school of several grades to one of a single grade, and we must expect to pay the salary such teachers can command elsewhere. The average salary for women teachers in the elementary grades in New Hampshire last year was a bit over $900.00.

School Progress

From observation of the work in the school rooms I believe that normal progress or better is being made. This, however, is a general statement and mere observation is not a reliable means of measuring the efficiency of instruction. Such a measure is possible through judicious use of standard tests. A series of tests in all the elementary schools was given in October, similar to those given last year, in silent reading, language, handwriting, spelling, and arithmetic. Individual record sheets have been prepared and class averages also are kept. The tests given have been used extensively in other school systems so that fairly accurate standards for comparison are available. It is not yet time to give a detailed account of the results, for a series of such tests is necessary to make a fair summary either of class scores or of individual records. The tests will be repeated in May and we plan to have them given twice each year. The results will become more and more valuable as time goes on. The purpose is, of course, not only to measure progress but to point out defects and to suggest remedies where defects are found. Considerable emphasis is being given this year to oral reading and handwriting, following along the same general lines as previous years. Adequate text books are in use in practically all the subjects but we need a better series of texts in language and grammar and a greater variety of reading material.

Last November uniform tests in arithmetic and spelling were given throughout New Hampshire. The spelling test was one in which a number of city eighth grades had averaged about 74 per cent. The average in all New Hampshire eighth grades was 67.42 per cent. The average in the Temple eighth grade was 70 per cent. The arithmetic test was one that was given in Springfield, Massachusetts, in 1846 to first year High School pupils and their average rank was 29.41 per cent. New Hampshire eighth grades averaged on the same test 49.29 per cent and the Temple eighth grade average was 50 per cent.

Attendance

Monthly reports of absence and tardiness are required from all teachers in the district and the percent of attendance in every school is published in all the other schools. This has a tendency to stimulate better attendance. An unusual amount of sickness held the attendance down in Temple during the fall but the last two months it has been higher than in the same months of last year. The year's average last year was about 2 per cent better than in the state as a whole.

It is coming to be generally understood that absences are not excusable for other cause than sickness and that truancy is unnecessary at any time.

Health Work

The regular medical inspection of all pupils attending school was made early in the fall by the school physician, Doctor Pease, assisted by the nurse, Mrs. Young. The results of the inspection and the follow-up work that has been carried on since then are to be found in the report of the school nurse which follows this report.

The Dental Clinic was conducted last spring but I have no definite information on the work done. I hope a similar arrangement will be made for the Clinic some time during this school year.

The sanitary arrangements of the school building are excellent but there are times when good ventilation is difficult. I think this can be remedied by means of window ventilators.

Public Interest

The work of the schools is brought to public notice by exercises which the children give in connection with community meetings and in other ways. This does not necessarily reveal the quality of the class room work, however, and personal visiting by the parents is always to be urged. The more completely parents know and appreciate the actual work of the pupils in class the better it is for both parents and school.

General School Progress

The State Board of Education has just issued a pamphlet entitled "School Progress in New Hampshire in Five Years," which I wish it were possible to reproduce here. Those interested may secure copies by writing to the State Board of Education. Here are just a few of the outstanding points.

The number of schools in the state having less than thirty-six weeks in the school year has been reduced from 924 in 1919 to 12 in 1923. This means that in the poor towns the period of elementary education has been increased from six and two-thirds years to eight full years. High school enrollment has increased from 12,087 in 1919 to 17,023 in 1923. The enrollment in the Normal Schools has increased from 290 in 1919 to 617 this year.

The per cent of fully trained teachers has increased from 32% in 1919 to 42% in 1923. The gain in partly trained teachers is from 32% to 46%, and the untrained teachers have been reduced from 34% to 12%. We are getting rid of the transient teacher for in 1919 540 changed position during the year but in 1923 only 187. Medical inspection was available for only 34% of the children in 1919; now it is provided for 100%.

The number of unsuitable buildings in use has been reduced from 500 to 85. It is estimated that the gain for rural schools in poor towns has been from about 40% efficiency up to about 70% efficiency. This has been accomplished at a cost to the taxpayer of only 64c a year for each thousand dollars of his assessed property.

School Needs

The plastering on the walls of the hallway and near the entrances of both rooms is loosening and falling badly and should be repaired next summer. The cement floor of the hallway is crumbling and very rough and I think this could be covered with some material that would reduce the wear on shoes and improve the appearance of the building. If these two repair items could be cared for now the repainting of the rest of the interior and the strengthening of the retaining wall in front of the school yard could be deferred until later. Estimates of the cost are not available at this date but will be furnished at the March meeting.

The loyalty and efficiency of the teachers, the sympathetic and earnest guidance of the School Board, and the manifest support of the townspeople are greatly appreciated; it is a delight to serve in such conditions as these.

Respectfully submitted,

VERNON S. AMES,

Wilton, N. H., Feb. 6, 1924

Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The value of health is obvious. Our problem is then how to secure and maintain health for our school children.

In the first place the correction of defects should be cared for. A number of our school children study under physical handicaps such as adenoids, diseased tonsils, defective sight which could often be corrected if attended to early, defective teeth which send a constant stream of poison through the system. It is hoped that parents will be willing to correct these defects as they are called to their attention. Tremendous gain has been noted in health and scholarship where physical defects in children have been corrected.

There is another phase of school hygiene in which the child can play a big part in maintaining health and that is in establishing health habits as, brushing teeth, correct sitting and standing posture, sleeping long hours with the windows open, exercise in the open air, personal cleanliness and good food including a liberal supply of leafy vegetables and milk. If there is cooperation of the home to help the child form these habits they can be established strong enough to be carried with him through life.

It is gratifying to note that so much interest is taken in the warm school lunches. The benefits of something hot and nutritious served at the noon hour instead of the usual cold lunch will be measured best in improved health of the children.

Number of pupils with defective teeth	19
Number of pupils with defective eyesight	3
Number of pupils with large tonsils	11
Number of pupils with adenoids	5
Number of pupils with malnutrition	2

Number of pupils with two defects	9
Number of pupils with one defect	17
Number of pupils with no defect	9
Number of pupils examined	45
Number of corrections made	24
Number of home calls made	40
Number of school inspections	8
Number of talks in school	12
Number of pupils excluded	10

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I am submitting my third annual report on the work of the Music Department for the year ending June, 1923.

The pupils in the Primary room were this year supplied with "Primary Melodies," a book of easy musical progressions. They are making good headway in note reading in these books. The pupils in the grammar room are continuing their work in Book One of the New Educational Music Series.

On special days such as Memorial Day, Graduation, Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving and Christmas, programs were given with songs for those occasions.

The loyal support of the Superintendent and School Board is much appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

MARIAN A. KING FITCH,

Supervisor of Music.
